Project Synthetic Update

Despite being a little behind due to the lousy recent weather, the contractor Paul Steiner and his crew have moved things along. Around 66 truckloads of soil have been removed from Greens 1 and 2. 4 lines of drainage have been laid on green 2 as per the attached photo. Ben O'Connell from Berry Bowling Systems is down with the flu' at the moment but will be back later this coming week, I'm sure.

More thanks to Murray Bruning and his team - they have just completed the laying of concrete between the gardens of green 1, gardens and the shelter/seating. Upon completion of the total contract the surroundings to both greens 1 and 2 will be all concrete or landscape synthetics. This will ensure no lawn cuttings, seeds etc can be transferred onto the new synthetic greens.

Steven Rogerson who had the unfortunate on-site accident due to whiplash from a wire is still waiting for the nerves on the left side of his face to mend and has some left eye sight to resolve. He is at work this week at Berry Head Office, Melbourne and is looking forward to being back with us in about 2 weeks or so.

We are happy with progress to date –

What a change in a week, and we have had so much rain and they still managed to get a lot of work done.

Well done
